

LANSDOWNE SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

This week it has been great to welcome the students back after half term. We have also welcomed a visiting artist, Alex Bowie, who has been working with 8MT. The class are designing a mural for an arch space in the centre of Brixton and have worked really well.

It is so good to be able to invite other professionals in to work with our students now that we are able to and I would like to thank the Brixton Project for facilitating these workshops.

Additionally, key stage 3 students worked on a window display for the architect's firm Squire and Partners, just off Brixton High Street in the Department Store (near TK Maxx).

The display is up for the whole of June, so please take a look if you are in Brixton this month.

I am so pleased that we are able to work with the local community again and the students are very proud of their work.

what we learned this week

art workshop

8MT have had three exciting art workshops this week. They have been helping create a mural for one of the Brixton arches which will be painted next week. The mural is themed on the history of Brixton, especially the history of theatre and shows. 8MT have learnt lots about this local history and used it to inspire their art.

In the first workshop, the class made collages based on some of the circus acts that used to tour Brixton. The second workshop was focused on famous people from Brixton and students made poly block print designs. And in the last workshop, students created show posters with images of themselves included. 8MT have created some wonderful work and we hope you will come see the finished mural when it is up.
